DENVER, Oct. 29.—If there is any tendency among Progressives of Colorado to support a fusion movement, that tendency was not manifested at the first annual conference which closed its final business session at 5:30 o'clock this afternoon. Resolutions, presented by the committee appointed yesterday, were adopted without a dissenting vote, and in these resolutions the unalterable determination is asserted "to maintain the integrity of the Progressive party, and as a necessary

Throughout the conference there have been a whisper that some sentiment existed in favor of some sort of amalgamation or cooperation with the Republican party. The only hints arose during the conference, however, that such a sentiment existed were in the speeches yesterday of Isaac N. Stevens of Denver and Dr. C. E. Fisher of Sterling, and neither of these gentlemen did more than to hint that such a procedure might perhaps become admissible.

Girard Denounces Democrats.

Today J. A. Girard of Adams county publicly denounced the Democratic party and left the impression that in the near future he would be the champion of the prohibition cause. He said that the Democrats had been deceived by the farmers who were attempting to make the liquor there was no question their adoption. But inasmuch as he thought the prohibition was of a strictly moral nature and of no business character, he declined to make any Dynamite should join to defeat what he regards as their common enemy, but his remarks received scant applause, while to the many calls from the crowded auditorium how any such scheme could be brought about, he made no answer. The fact that no opposition of any sort was offered to the very strong resolutions adopted proves that if there is in the Progressive party any fusion sentiment the men who hold that sentiment are not at present willing to show their hand.

As a consequence the Progressive party stands united, and it may be taken from the foregoing account on its work as a separate and distinct organization. Moreover, the resolutions adopted today place the party on record as being willing to deal in definite concrete fashion with

Not far from $2000 of this amount has already been collected and it is the intention of the finance committee headed by James H. Conway, to put the secretary and an organizer into the field at once to raise funds and organize the eleven countries at the same time.

Resolutions.

The following resolutions were adopted late this afternoon, as follows:

"The Progressive party of Chicago exists not as an aggregation of selfish office-seekers, but as an organization which has for its chief purpose the enactment of sane constructive legislation designed to secure the greatest possible measure of justice for all citizens, and to develop in the fuagainst the other men, because Clark McNamara was co-conspirator and his testimony was incompetent.

Not Government Offense.

That the destruction of passenger cars was an offense against the state and in violating the federal government.

That the law prohibiting transportation of explosives on passenger trains was in violation for the safety of passengers and property of railroad companies.

That the men were convicted both conspiracy and of direct violation of the same statute and therefore are entitled upon each case for the same offense.

It was an attempt to punish these twice as crime as it would be if they were charged on the same charge. And Mr. Keim said that it was inconceivable that men residing in Boston, San Francisco, New York, Detroit, Philadelphia and other widely scattered, could be taken together with a common understanding to direct the actions of McNamara and the McNamaras.

None of them never heard of McNamara and the law specifically designated passenger trains. What would be the purpose of these men in endeavoring to carry explosives particularly on passenger trains? There could be no purpose.

In the day of the conference, it was said that the conference and those in attendance were in a fair way of discussing the question of such a plan. The union there was no plan of their adoption. For instance, the conference did not discuss the question of a union with the Republican party and of course, the question of a union with the Republican party was not discussed.

TRINIDAD, Oct. 29. Coincident with the arrival of the state militia in the strike zone of southern Colorado, more disorders occurred today and tonight throughout the district than had been reported previously during any one day. The most serious outbreak on the part of strikers was the rifling and burning of the United States postoffice at Aguilar by strikers, after they had defeated a small group of mine guards in a battle at the Southwestern mine of the Southwestern Fuel company.

One hundred and twenty-five troops were hurriedly dispatched from Walsenburg to take charge of the situation at Aguilar, and tonight after the troops had dispersed there, even if they had blown up the work of contractors who refused to join the union, the statute of limitation had run against the offenses before the men could be tried.

COL. ROOSEVELT TO CROSS THE ANDES BY AUTOMOBILE

BUENOS AYRES, Oct. 29.—A change is contemplated in Col. Roosevelt's program by which he may cross the Andes by automobile instead of by train the latter part of next month. While the trans-Andean railway affords a novel journey, it is believed that the trip by motor would prove still more interesting to the distinguished American visitor and it is understood that he has already favored the automobile trip over the mountains.

It is probable he will go from Buenos Ayres to Mendoza by rail, bringing him to the foothills of the Andes, and from there go by automobile to Santiago de Chile and Valparaiso, in which cities he has planned to make a stop of five days.

The trip across the Andes will probably be made through the Uspallata pass. In places the road is fine and broad, but in others narrow and runs at a height of 12,875 feet above sea level. The pass is just to the south of Mount Aconcagua, which is 23,333 feet high. Severe storms are common over this route and as a refuge for travelers a number of small stone houses have been scattered along the route.

On returning to Buenos Ayres, Colonel Roosevelt may use the trans-Andean tunnel which was completed in 1908.

DR. MURET SENTENCED TO 7 YEARS AND 6 MONTHS

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—Ernest A. Muret, bogus dentist and companion of the Rev. Hans Schmidt, slayer of Anna Amnell, was sentenced today to serve seven years and six months in the federal prison at Atlanta for having in his possession a complete outfit to be used in counterfeiting $20 bills. Muret was convicted yesterday.

In sentencing Muret the court denied his request to be permitted to return to Germany and remain there. A physician, appointed by the court, to examine Muret, reported that his lungs were affected by disease but that he was not a victim of tuberculosis.

United States Marshal Henkel said he would take Muret to Atlanta probably within a day or two.

SEATTLE PROSECUTING CAMPAIGN AGAINST RATS

SEATTLE, Wash., Oct. 29.—The catching of a rat in a public place at University street and Railroad avenue, 1,500 feet further north than any infected rat heretofore has been captured, resulted today in City Health Commissioner Dr. James E. Critchton issuing an order for a more vigorous campaign against the rodents. Dr. Critchton said he previously had been caught at the foot of Jackson street, in an old building which is now being demolished.

NEW YORK POLITICS NOW AT FEVER HEAT

Hennessy Still Center of Attack Made by Tammany Leaders

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—New York's heated municipal campaign was kept hot by a feverish attack tonight. John A. Hennessy, Governor Sulzer's graft investigator, whose speeches for the fusion ticket headed by John Purroy Mitchell have been a striking feature of the campaign, kept up his attacks on Tammany hall, with Edward E. McCall, the Tammany nominee for mayor, laying stress in his talks tonight on charges of graft and graft by which he declared Tammany benefited. Former Judge McCall, who spoke in Manhattan and Brooklyn, attacked Mitchell for his former connection as counsel for a corporation.

The $25,000 campaign contribution from Anthony N. Brady, traction magnate, now dead, still offered to and declined by William Sulzer, which he was running for governor last year, and then given to Charles F. Murphy, leader of Tammany hall, who declared yesterday that he returned it to Brady, remained a point of discussion. Support was given Murphy's declaration that he returned the money to Brady by a statement from former Judge Samuel A. Beardsley, who originally took the $25,000 from Brady to Sulzer and on the latter's refusal to accept it, handed it to Murphy.

Beardsley Returned It. Beardsley in his statement today, without mentioning Murphy's name, said that "a campaign contribution of $25,000 made by Mr. Brady in the campaign of 1912, was subsequently returned to him."

Hennessy in one of his speeches tonight challenged Beardsley to furnish proof that Murphy gave back the $25,000 and declared that Beardsley could not and would not attempt to prove any such thing through the Brady estate.

The confession of former Senator Stillwell, now a convict in Sing Sing, said to contain in a "little black book" in possession of Hennessy, will be turned over to District Attorney Whitman tomorrow, according to a statement tonight by Hennessy, who was a witness again today in the prosecutor's investigation of charges made in the campaign. Mr. Whitman's inquiry will result in grand jury proceedings if the district attorney uncovers evidence which he believes will warrant them.

MANY CITIZENS OF NOME DESTITUTE

SEATTLE, Wash., Oct. 29.—The mayor of Nome, Alaska, in a cablegram today to the Seattle chamber of commerce, said many persons were destitute as a result of the recent severe cold destroyed part of the city and would need financial aid or transportation. He said $50,000 will be required to carry Nome through the long winter, and asked for government assistance.

tion can be carried out, the elimination of Huerta from the situation must be accomplished. It is thought that the president will request the department be outlined recently to John Lind, upon which a satisfactory settlement of the trouble in Mexico seemed to be conditioned, but will add the stipulation that someone acceptable to all factions be placed in provisional authority to conduct a fair and free election. Details of an election plan, it is thought, will accompany such suggestions.

Europe Expects Action. With the united support of foreign governments, it is thought by some officials here that the retirement of Huerta could be accomplished, although one declaration said no aid or money would be given until the army is in the constitutional position.

Various alternatives, such as moral support for the Constitutional cause, or lifting the embargo on arms, have been suggested as ways to influence Huerta to retire. That some comprehensive plan for dealing with the situation is expected by Europe was apparent today, when the character of the representations made by the diplomats at Mexico City to their home governments became known.

Although no collective opinion was reached at the recent conference of diplomats at the Mexican capital, many of them it was learned today, criticized the United States severely for not taking such steps as would restore tranquility. Some suggested intervention in one form or another. The French minister, said to have been among those who roundly criticized the American policy, while the Spanish minister is declared to have made caustic reference to the invasion of Mexico by Spanish Nationalists, while the United States maintained a quiet attitude.

FOREIGN ATTACKS CURRENCY BILL

GOVERNMENT CONFIDENCE IN THE CURRENCY BILL

WILLING TO GO INTO THE HANDS OF THE CITY AS WELL AS THE COUNTRY

CHICAGO, Oct. 29.—Asserting the government had confused two entirely different branches of banking and proposes to make the national bank suffer for funds with which only a few had any connection, David R. Forgan, president of the National City bank, today attacked the pending currency bill.

He told 700 members of the association of commerce that the business interests would be the first to suffer. He said the bill would cut deep into the resources of the city banks, 60 per cent of the total deposits of which now come from the country banks, and in so doing would reduce by the same degree the amount available for commercial loans.

The whole situation, he said, was due to confusion of national bank operations with those of the big private institutions in Wall street, acting as promoters and dealers in stocks. With them, he admitted, are associated a few large New York banks.

Mr. Forgan attacked the theory of unequal credit, and asserted that on the contrary the banks are working everywhere to sell credit and competing with each other in that enterprise.

DISORDERS BREAK OUT

this vicinity at the Southwestern and Empire mines when strikers burned the mine shafts and postoffice at the Southwestern mine property. The strikers made no reply.

The trial, left Walsenburg on a special train in accordance with a court order, a used late this afternoon by General Chase, whose duty had to occupy the district was reached immediately, upon being advised by the attorney, of the attacks upon the mine of the Southwestern Fuel company.

General Chase announced tonight that he had received a telegram from the state of Colorado, which had been received at the mine, that the strikers were to be arrested for the last two days. Chase and yesterday hundreds of his men gathered in the camp, all of whom he said were to be arrested. No person not a striker could enter the camp, and the mine camps but that he was subjected to a beating, backed by the striking threat of a high-powered rifle in the hands of one or more strikers who always stood in the road. Sometimes the strikers were stopped and questioned, and at other times were permitted to pass unhindered. Today nothing of the sort was to be seen. Only two rifles were in evidence about the camp, and they were in the hands of two strikers acting as pickets upon the side of the camp bordering the mine property. Many boxes of ammunition, openly displayed Monday, today are not to be seen within the camp, and no one tells what has become of it.

Officers of the Colorado National guard, which today completed its organization and established its camp on the outskirts of the city, say the rifles and ammunition had not been surrendered to them.

WALSBURG STRIKERS ARE SURRENDERING ARMS

General Chase announced further that the strikers at Walsenburg were showing a willingness to return to their arms.

Thousands of rifles and a large quantity of ammunition had been removed from the Ludlow tent colony, was the belief expressed by General Chase after personal inquiries conducted today. The militia after arriving disarmed a number of strikers, who appeared about the Southwestern mine. Major Hamrock was later informed of trouble at the Empire mine, clearly adjoining the Southwestern, and the entire detachment hastened there.

The camp had been aroused since the coming of the troops and an uprising is momentarily expected. Major Hamrock has orders not to go into the strikers' colony to disarm them, unless the strikers begin to fire from the camp.

OFFICIALS ARE PLANNING CAMPAIGN OF PUBLICITY

DENVER, Oct. 29.—A campaign of publicity for the striking miners' side of the controversy in the southern Colorado coal fields will open with a mass meeting at the Auditorium tomorrow night, under the auspices of the Colorado State Federation of Labor and the Denver Trades and Labor assembly.

President John P. White of the United Mine Workers of America and Vice President Frank J. Hayes will present the strikers' point of view of the situation in the southern coal fields.

As part of the campaign of publicity, today a store in the center of the city was used as a show room for an exhibition of damage done by the operators' machine gun in the fight at Forbes.

The exhibit consists of a tent, said to be that of John Ute, a striker, and kitchen utensils. The tent showed 147 perforations, said to be bullet holes, and the kitchen utensils were eleven.

It was announced at the office of Governor Ammons tonight that a report from Adjutant General Chase late tonight stated troops had been placed on guard at mines and strikers' tent colonies in the Walsenburg district and that the 125 men now there probably would remain.

Governor Ammons observed that as both sides had asked protection, neither could complain.

DAY IS MARKED BY CONSIDERABLE VIOLENCE

TRINIDAD, Oct. 29.—Violence among the striking miners in the southern Colorado coal fields today shifted from Trinidad and its immediate vicinity to Aguilar, six miles north of the big Ludlow tent colony. Possible federal intervention was precipitated at the office of the Southwestern Fuel company, where late last night and early this morning, a battle was waged between strikers and a handful of mine guards. After defeating the guards and capturing the mine office, in which the postoffice also is situated, the strikers are charged with having blocked over a stove, setting fire to the building, which was completely destroyed, together with its contents of United States mail, money orders and

COAL BARONS DENY GOVERNMENT CHARGE

Claim There Is No Evidence of Conspiracy or Collusion

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 29.—Substantially the same replies were made today by the individual defendants to the government's suit against the alleged coal trust as were made in the answers of the corporations filed last week.

The individual defendants, all of whom are directors of the companies involved, make emphatic denial of the charges of conspiracy and collusion to corner anthracite coal in the Schuylkill region in their answers filed in the United States district court. They are George H. Ross, Edward T. Storch, Henry C. Frick, P. A. B. Widener, Henry A. Dupont, Daniel Willard, Henry T. McKean and Samuel Dickson.

The material allegations of the government, reflecting on the methods employed by the defendants in acquiring the stock of so-called independent companies, are denied and the defendants aver all the transactions were in conformity with the law.

day declared evidences were present that the mine had been rifled before the building was fired, since envelopes, opened, were found near by, half burned.

The mine office also was completely destroyed, with all its contents, the camp having been surrendered wholly by the guards.

Strikers Attack Guards

The firemen who were at work in the tipple house were the first of the working miners to be fired upon. They tied down the mine airon and scattered the place, which was then being subjected to heavy fire. The 15 guards gathered at the postoffice and there fought with the strikers until they had been overpowered by superior numbers.

After working their will with the Southwestern offices, the miners went to the Empire mine of the same company and there began an attack. No resistance was offered, they said, and they withdrew shortly, doing no more damage than riddling the boiler house with bullets.

No one was injured in either camp. Ludlow Again Quilt.

The strikers' camp at Ludlow today was devoid of all signs of life, and the strikers were to be seen only for the last two days. Chase and yesterday hundreds of his men gathered in the camp, all of whom he said were to be arrested. No person not a striker could enter the camp, and the mine camps but that he was subjected to a beating, backed by the striking threat of a high-powered rifle in the hands of one or more strikers who always stood in the road. Sometimes the strikers were stopped and questioned, and at other times were permitted to pass unhindered. Today nothing of the sort was to be seen. Only two rifles were in evidence about the camp, and they were in the hands of two strikers acting as pickets upon the side of the camp bordering the mine property. Many boxes of ammunition, openly displayed Monday, today are not to be seen within the camp, and no one tells what has become of it.

Officers of the Colorado National guard, which today completed its organization and established its camp on the outskirts of the city, say the rifles and ammunition had not been surrendered to them.

Little Display of Weapons

In the display of weapons in mine camps as pronounced as on yesterday. Today no heavily armed guard was visible at the mine camp stockade gates. Only an apparently unarmed guard was on duty at each mine camp gate, though armed guards were seen within. The munitions which have disappeared from the mine guards are not in the hands of the troops. No trouble of any character occurred between mine guards and strikers at and around the Ludlow colony today. Mine guards came and went at will along the highway bordering the strikers' colony, and strikers were not embarrassed by mine guards.

It is believed that if any further trouble occurs in the strike zone while the troops are present, it will be at Aguilar, where another large colony of strikers is situated. No troops were sent to Ludlow today, and so far as can be learned tonight, it is not the intention of the National guard to take any drastic steps until tomorrow afternoon at the earliest. Mine guards and strikers have been given 24 hours from today noon to surrender their arms and ammunition to the state forces, and unless they refuse to comply it is indicated that the troops will remain in quarters, where they will be ready to deal with any disorders that might occur in the future.

Strikers Bitter at Troops

The presence of the troops here has caused much bitterness on the part of the strikers, and a meeting of the executive board of the allied unions of Colorado met in Pueblo tonight to discuss the situation and to call a meeting of delegates from each trade union in the state to determine upon the advisability of calling a strike in every department of organized labor. Many of the labor leaders are said to favor the plan, as they openly charge that the troops were not sent to quell disturbances so long as the mine guards had the "upper hand," but when we began to get the best of them, they couldn't get the troops down here fast enough.

By dusk tonight the troops' camp had been made in readiness for them, and they prepared to spend tomorrow in drill, in event more exciting work had not materialized for them by that time.

to be protected against the exactions of great combinations of capital, but the rights of all the people are superior to the rights of contending capital, and labor and, therefore, there must be enforced publicity of all labor disputes with a board of arbitration to settle that now existing in New York.

"Third, that the property of the state belongs to all the people of the state and should be used for the greatest good of the greatest number. We place the working, wastefulness of our state land board. We believe future coal leases should be granted only on terms reserving to the state the power of fixing the hours and conditions of labor, operating methods and the maximum price for which coal may be sold to the consumer. We believe the state, in order to curb the exactions of the present coal trust, and in order to demonstrate the efficacy of further operations, should as soon as possible begin the mining of coal on state coal lands, and that the state cancel immediately all leases in which by violation of the terms of the contract the holders have forfeited their rights.

Finance Committee Report. James H. Cawsey then presented a report of the finance committee, outlining the budget and the work of the state. The budget was unanimously adopted, and it was voted to set a tax on the basis of 15 cents for every vote cast in the 1912 election for E. P. Cavan for governor. Mr. Cawsey announced that already a few men in Denver had pledged $1,000 towards the budget, while representatives from various counties present guaranteed the raising of the assessment on the counties. Cards were distributed as pledges were made by those present.

The presentation and adoption of resolutions occupied the last place in the program after which adjournment was taken for the banquet at 6 o'clock at the Adams hotel.

Tonight's banquet at the Adams hotel proved a fitting close to what considered the most remarkable gathering ever held in the state in a full period between two political campaigns. Two thousand leading people of the state were present, and the evening bristled with enthusiasm for the success of the new Edward P. Costigan acted as a toastmaster.

Speeches were made by Clarence Dodge of Colorado Springs, state chairman of the Progressive party; M. Gail Laughlin, vice chairman, at about 20 others prominent in the ranks of the party. No speaker hinted at fusion or amalgamation with old party, the sentiment being stronger than ever for a policy of the Progressives fighting their own battle to the finish, without fear or compromise.

HOUSE WANTS TO KNOW IF BILL IS BEING ENFORCED

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—The department of administration in announcing its decision interpreting the 5 per cent tariff discount on imports in American vessels, may result within a few days the introduction of a measure in the house calling upon the treasury department for information as to why it is doing to enforce the new tariff law on this point.

It was said in the house today such action would be taken very soon unless the department acted on the question. It is understood the attorney general already has prepared a decision, but his conclusions are being withheld with a view to having the problem decided in the courts, the attorney general taking the position that it really is a judicial question.

It is understood at the Capitol the attorney general's decision holds that the 5 per cent discount abrogate treaties now in force and that therefore, vessels, either American or foreign, can be given the 5 per cent discount. The treasury department, however, is proceeding with the collection of full dues, expecting the whole question to be fought out in the courts.

DENVER PHONE CASE WILL COME UP TODAY

DENVER, Oct. 29.—United States District Judge R. E. Lewis today ordered Judge Substantia in the case involving the application of the Municipal Statute T-134888 to the Municipal company for an injunction restraining the city of Denver from enforcing the terms of the city ordinance providing as, usual, the feature of the ordinance.

THE GARBAGE CONTRACT

PUBLIC discussion of the question of garbage disposal, incident to the making of a new contract, has already produced a saving of $12,000 for the next four years and the contract is not yet made. Here is a fine illustration of the unwisdom of making contracts without knowing anything about them. A few years ago the City agreed to pay $100 a month for the removal of garbage, the contractors to have the privilege of feeding it to hogs. Now that a demand has arisen for the building of a municipal garbage reduction plant the same contractors are willing to pay the City $7,200 in the next four years for the privilege of doing exactly what the City has been paying them $100 a month for doing. The difference of $12,000 in four years is worth considering; also it would be interesting to know how much the contractors have been making on the deal in the past.

This deal does not provide for sterilization, but since this, fortunately, is now deemed necessary, the City is offered $5,760 for the garbage privilege with provision for sterilization, under a four-year contract.

The advantages of operating a garbage reduction plant are so much greater than the present method of disposal that there is not a doubt as to which plan should be adopted as a permanent policy. The idea of feeding refuse to hogs which are later sold in the local market is repugnant; moreover, there is the very grave danger of disease infection. A reduction plant would entirely eliminate this factor and thereby attain the highest degree of sanitary efficiency. Moreover, it probably could be operated at an actual profit, as is the case in many other cities where the byproducts are sold.

A garbage reduction plant could be built and ready for operation within a year, or two years at most, so there would be no special advantage to the city in making a contract, such as is now contemplated, for more than that period. The better course would be to make the best arrangement possible for two years, and in the meantime build an up-to-date plant for the scientific reduction of all garbage and refuse.

TAX THE BILLBOARDS

A FEATURE of the ordinance for regulating billboards, recently adopted in Denver, is a tax of two and one-half cents per square foot on billboards of all kinds. Of course it is vigorously opposed by the billboard men who, having failed to prevent the enactment of the ordinance, are now fighting it in the courts. However, it is altogether probable that the law will stand, for similar provisions are in effect elsewhere.

A man who is willing to deface the streets and buildings of an entire city by covering them with unsightly billboards ought to consider himself lucky to get off with a tax of only two and one-half cents a square foot. Indeed, this is only a half-way measure, an attempt to regulate an unmitigated evil instead of abolishing it altogether. There is no reasonable excuse for the billboard. It is not necessary; it is not useful except in earning profit for its owner, and it unquestionably does a great deal of harm. In every city the taxpayers are required to spend large sums annually improving and beautifying the streets, and then comes the billboard man with his glue pot and destroys the effect.

This is a matter of unusual importance to Colorado Springs because the attractiveness of our streets is not merely a matter of local pride but a business asset. The billboards ought to come down all of them, without exception, but it will never happen until the Council adopts a stringent ordinance abolishing them. And when this comes to pass, if it ever does, it will accomplish wonders for the beautification of the city.

WORTH TALKING ABOUT

OUR neighbor, The Telegraph, observes that Colonel Roosevelt is still saying that the golden rule is a splendid thing.

and then marvels that "Progressive organs take it up and tell us in substance now and then that we have a man of such prominence who tells us that character is better than cash."

And why not? Is there any story that will better bear repetition? Have the Ten Commandments and the Golden Rule lost their luster? No, no. Our contemporary seems to think it an absurd thing that a public man should insist on these things; it accuses him of "saying an undisputed thing in such a solemn way." But the man who, like Colonel Roosevelt, exerts a tremendous influence on public thought would be derelict if he failed to insist upon them at all times. It is not novelty in political preaching that we need, but more emphasis on the importance of plain, old-fashioned honesty.

The Park Commission asks for an appropriation of $56,500 in the next budget, and we hope it gets it. Ten thousand dollars of this sum is to repair the rip-rapping in Monument Valley Park washed out by floods, and an equal amount is for a public comfort station in North Park, a thing so urgently needed that the Council should not hesitate to vote the money. Other items proposed are a new bandstand in North Park to cost $2,500, and road construction in the Garden of the Gods amounting to $2,900. We have the best park system in the West, and it cannot be maintained without money. The Council can well afford to be generous.

The Pueblo Star-Journal hopefully observes that "if the elections to be held in other states soon indicate that the Progressives are returning to the Republican party in large numbers, the chances are that some basis will be found for agreement between the Progressives and the Republicans of Colorado."

Notice the presence of that word "if" an obstacle bigger than a mountain. "If the elections indicate, etc." but they won't.

The coal operators strongly intimate that the strike in the southern field is none of the public's business. Of course not! All the public does is to pay the bills, both for higher-priced coal and the cost of the militia in the field.

"Each hour brings news of fresh triumphs of the Huerta-Blanquet ticket," declares Huerta's organ in Mexico City. Of course. Each hour gives more time to juggle the returns.

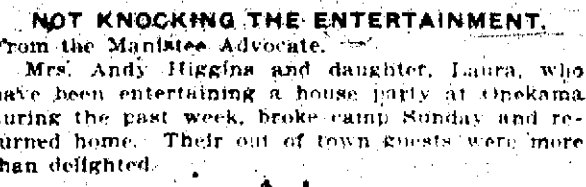

From Harper's Weekly.
 Both of the old parties in Massachusetts need a lesson. Neither can be trusted to carry out any reasonable extent the wishes of the people and the needs of the state. Mr. Bird is ideally suited for the governorship. His election on November 4 would do much to keep Massachusetts in that proud position of leadership which she has always so highly deserved.

THE MONROE DOCTRINE.

From Leslie's Weekly.
 The Monroe doctrine has been exploited and defended by both the great political parties. "America for Americans" has been the cry. It seems that this policy and the Monroe doctrine itself are in danger. Washington advisers report that when President Wilson sent Mr. Lind to Mexico and refused to recognize President Huerta, the latter was not inclined to receive Lind until the leading foreign nations were asked by us and consented to intervene in our behalf. England, Germany and France were willing to respond to this appeal because they saw in it an opportunity to weaken the Monroe doctrine.

Next came the report that foreign battleships were on their way to Mexico. Then followed an urgent suggestion by the New York Herald, which has always led the American press in its handling of international questions, that President Wilson should summon the representatives of all the great powers for a conference on the Mexican situation. Whether this would be regarded as an abandonment of the Monroe doctrine remains to be seen. A friendly conference on a question affecting the Mexican republic would be different from intervention in the affairs of a sister republic. Some Americans are advocating the abandonment of the Monroe doctrine, our eloquent friend Col. Henry Waterson among the rest.

In a matter of such grave importance we should proceed with great caution. The eyes of all Americans are fixed on the inviting commercial field which the American continent presents. It is a curious fact that this discussion of the permanence of the Monroe doctrine comes at the very time when the opening of the Panama canal is expected to give the United States a special advantage in securing the trade of the South American republics.

THE BRIDAL MUSE.

From the Austin (Tex.) Tribune.
 The accounts of the bride to be have been sweet:

"Love is the master of all art,
 And puts into human hearts
 The strangest things to say and do,
 And I hope that the hardness that is mine
 Will be that of all something
 Whencever (I think) he sweet of fate
 Love makes (I hope) so.
 So, till the end when life's dim shadows fall,
 Love will be found the sweetest song of all."

REST

BY GEORGE FITCH
 Author of "At Good Old Swank"

Rest is the process of recuperation after labor. Rest is a very important duty of man. If he were to work continuously without rest, he would soon fade away and be deposited upon the junk pile of worn-out humanity.

This is because labor tears down the muscle cells. Therefore, it is necessary that man should occasionally sit down in a quiet spot and allow himself to be rebuilt.

Rest after labor is a great boon. But a large number of people make the grave mistake of resting at the wrong time. They insist on resting before work.

This leads to grave consequences. The system keeps on piling up muscle cells of the old ones, and presently the power thereof is too strong to work.

This is a terrible condition, and leads to great yec. The earth is encumbered with men who cannot work.

"The world is encumbered with men who cannot work until they get through resting."

until they get through resting, and who cannot get through resting until they have begun work. In the meantime their wives' clear-starching is much admired by our best families.

Various people require greatly varying amounts of rest. A man who works hard a hours a day with his hands gets enough rest in the evening in two pipefuls of tobacco to restore himself completely.

But a banker who works from 10 to 2 has to get out on the golf links for three hours a day in order to keep from drooping like a weary flower.

Some men work all their lives without vacations, while others take a month off each year and rest with great fury at the seashore or in the mountains, or amid the taxicabpads of Europe.

A great many people criticize this country severely because there is no rest in it to speak of. In England men work from rest to rest, while in this country men rest from work to work and regard the resting time as a dead loss.

Englishmen rest in the morning, at noon, in the afternoon for tea, and from Friday until Monday. Then they retire at 45 and rest the remainder of their lives after which they die, leaving enough of money to enable their dependents to rest on forever.

In America, men work until the electric light plant breaks down, takes his vacation with a secretary and two stenographers, and celebrates his seventieth birthday by organizing a trust.

This causes great scorn in England, and Englishmen spend a great deal of time expressing horror over our rude industrial ways. In fact, whenever an Englishman isn't busy discussing his favorite theme, "What is the Matter With England?" he is usually disapproving of America for working.

This is one of the things which leads to the general suspicion that the Englishman has no sense of humor.

Independence in the Home

BY RUTH CAMERON

Three young matrons were chatting over their family affairs one day.
 Said one of them: "Oh, I must tell you the good news. My mother-in-law isn't going to live with us this winter after all. She's going to take an apartment with her widowed sister."

"Isn't that fine?" cried one of the matrons.
 "I'm so glad," said the other.

And then, being young people with an unusual sense of humor, they all began to laugh at their own frankness.

"I suppose we ought to be ashamed of ourselves for talking this way," said the young woman who had announced the "good news." "But what's the use? We all feel that way and we might as well admit it. And I know it isn't because we dislike our mother-in-law either. I'm sure mine is a dear. She can't do enough for us and I'd as lief have her with us as anyone I know. But oh, I'd so much rather not have anyone in our little house except David and the baby and me. Isn't it queer?"

"I'm ashamed of myself," I just can't help feeling that way."

"Do you think this woman had anything to be ashamed of? I don't."

"She was merely expressing the universal desire for independence of life."

"Of course, if the mother-in-law had needed a home, it would have been her duty to give it and give graciously and knowing her, I feel sure that she would have done so. But I don't blame her, nor the other women for being glad that they could preserve the unity of the family and their own independence."

I believe that every human being, or group of human beings should have all the independence possible without infringing upon the rights and privileges of others.

I believe that if we all allowed each other more independence we should be happier.

For instance, I think children are far better off when they are allowed all the independence of action compatible with the rights of the rest of the family and their own best interests. If possible a child should have a room which belongs entirely to him and be king within that room. He should be allowed to arrange it to suit himself, and should be responsible for its condition. The rest of the family should respect his rights by knocking before entering.

Again, I think husbands and wives are far happier together when each allows the other a large measure of independence. A great deal of unhappiness is caused by assuming that husbands and wives must like exactly the same things and spend all their leisure time together. No, two people may love each other most tenderly, and yet each enjoy certain things which the other does not. The conventional assumption in such cases is that one or both must be sacrificed to a unity of interests. Why should anyone be sacrificed? Why shouldn't the husband read and the wife play cards with their neighbors for an hour or two, if they like best to read and she to play bridge? They will still enjoy plenty of time to be together and will probably have that time much more.

Children are happier when they have their own room, and their own life.

We all desire independence, and at the same time we ought to be willing to give it to others.

ODDS AND ENDS

"This week the W. C. T. U. in New York will take a fall out of Demon Rum. At Kansas City last week our Congregationalist brethren had high under the ropes. Wonderful the re-assertion of power."—Cripple Creek Times.

But they're forcing him back to the ropes, and he's beginning to show signs of increasing vigor. He'll take the count, one of these days.

Mr. Shaffer has almost formed a Denver newspaper trust. But the 1.6-acre camp meeting site at Crystal park, on the projected Pike's Peak railroad, is the only one that he couldn't possibly make the situation worse than it was.

The old Denver Republican outlived its usefulness years ago, and its passing will bring no regret in any quarter. For many years it had been simply a tool of the Denver corporations, never in any manner serving the people.

The Boulder Camera says the editorialists in the Shaffer papers are "milk and water." Maybe Mr. Shaffer is just feeling his way.

The Grand Junction grand jury, which has not yet completed its labors, has indicted three county commissioners, a former county physician, and the former clerk of the district court, besides finding 33 indictments for bootlegging and a dozen for keeping a disorderly house. That's about the busiest grand jury that has yet reported.

"We feel that our esteemed contemporary has been unfair to Mr. Ellis, who is not a Socialist, but a Roosevelt Progressive."—Grand Junction News.

Possibly "our esteemed contemporary" is one of those standard papers that cannot distinguish between the two.

It will require an additional term for President Wilson to extract the teeth from the oppressive corporations and restore competition in food, as under existing conditions the railroads and oil fields are getting more than the producer.

As a matter of fact, a dozen consecutive rain can't resurrect an economic system that is as dead as the old competitive system. The sooner Mr. Wilson recognizes this, the better will be his chance of making the Democratic a really progressive party.

Woodrow Wilson has named November 27 as this year's day of thanks. But does he expect the G. O. P. to join in observance of the day?

A Fulton Pacific train was stalled the other day near Fort Collins by a bunch of tumble weeds. That's not the best sort of advertisement of the flaming methods of that country.

The delinquent tax list of Montrose county measures up 234 inches, or more than double that of San Miguel county. Montrose county is "big." San Miguel county is "small."

Does the fact that Montrose county has a population of 39,000, while that of San Miguel is only 12,000, have anything to do with it?

Former United States Senator Beveridge the other night addressed the largest political rally ever held in Springfield, Mass. People are showing a willingness to hear Progressive doctrines expounded, and while they will hesitate about leaving the old parties, they will in the end accept the new policies. It's as inevitable as death.

They said Massachusetts would never have the initiative referendum and recall. Yet Beveridge talked on these subjects at great length, and the Boston Transcript, standing, says the immense audience was for nearly two hours "held spellbound."

Maybe the voters of Massachusetts don't feel as incompetent to govern themselves as the standpatners have imagined.

Those interested deny the existence of an anthracite coal trust. It is just a coincidence that all anthracite operators charge the same price and observe each other's exclusive territory.

The Republican state chairman of New Jersey is out with a statement urging all Progressives to vote for the Republican candidate for governor, on the ground that if they don't the Democrats will be elected. And if they do the Republican will be elected. The Republican state chairman doesn't seem to realize that the Progressives would as soon have one old party as the other in control. The result utterly misrepresents the situation. The thing for which Progressives are striving is to build up a new party, and that can be done only by letting all the forces for that party's candidates, so long as they are "good men and true" stand for the party's platform.

The New York Sun, of course, sneers at Charles Sumner Bird, Progressive candidate for governor of Massachusetts. Says the Sun: "As a disciple of the Great Protector the Progressive candidate for governor of Massachusetts has learned that there are good manifestations of great good wealth and bad manifestations of wicked wealth, just as there are rich ideal bosses and poor ideal bosses whose chief inquiry is that they are rich but not ideal."

The difference between good rich men and bad rich men, politically, dear Sun, is that the former believe in an absolutely democratic government with initiative, referendum, and recall, while the latter believe in a system that keeps all power in the hands of the rich. And the distinction is rather vital.

The Progressives of that district have turned thousands of voters from the Progressive party all over the country by nominating Sulzer.—North Rock Times (Ind.).

Sulzer was removed from the governorship by the most corrupt political gang in the country, and regardless of all his shortcomings, he is entitled to the support and sympathy of all decent folks. —Rockford Times (Ill.).

It is easy to start a female who knows mentioning Sulzer.

But any sensible woman, once she has started on it, visitors can carry with them the little needed for camera.

IN THE EARLY DAYS

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 30, 1913. TWENTY YEARS AGO TODAY

OCTOBER 30, 1893.

The local Methodist church, through Dr. T. G. Horn, was planning to buy a 10-acre camp meeting site at Crystal park, on the projected Pike's Peak railroad.

Brigham Young, Jr., wife No. 3 and their child arrived for a visit at Manitou.

C. N. Noble returned from a trip to Minnesota.

After a bitter fight of months, and under the whip of President Cleveland the United States senate passed a bill repealing the Sherman Silver purchase act.

The world's fair at Chicago closed there had been 21,477,212 paid admissions.

The Morning Journal, a new daily for Cripple Creek, was incorporated with a capital of $25,000.

WHAT THE PROGRESSIVES ARE DOING

The most spectacular, if not the most important, political drama of these days is going on in New York, where Sulzer and his graft investigators, Henry, have got Murphy, McCall and the rest of Tammany backed up against the wall and are daily and nightly shooting them full of holes as efficiently as any Huebner agent ever shot a Madero—and much more legitimately. It is an amazing tale that Henry, the graft power, tells, but he supplies convincing detail for most of it.

It seems that a Jimmy Dolan used to say, the Tammany grafters have found "no detail too small to ignore." They even made a systematic levy upon the wages of the 400,000 men who worked on the canal, and they had their collectors in the paymaster's office, so that the graft was deducted before the pay envelopes were delivered to the employees. According to Henry's figures, this line of graft alone amounted to about $3,000 a week.

The graft Henry has disclosed renders all the more clear and emphatic the important duty of Martin Glynn, the governor whom Tammany has installed in place of Sulzer at Albany. Whatever of folly or wrong the impeached governor may have committed, it is undeniable that he did one thing that was good and strong and straight for the state. He did start in the trail of the grafters, and it is undeniable that it was because he was on the trail of the grafters and because Murphy and Tammany knew that that trail, if pursued, would put some of their rascals in the penitentiary that Sulzer was impeached. Obviously Murphy and Tammany were more ready to trust their case to the friendly hands of Martin Glynn. Just as obviously, there devolves upon Mr. Glynn the paramount duty before everything else, unflinchingly to pursue the trail that Sulzer's investigations uncovered.

Will he do it?
 On the day that he became governor, when he was holding his first talk with the newspaper correspondents in Albany, one of the reporters, recalling the Sulzer declaration of last January, that he was the "leader of the Democratic party," asked Glynn if he intended to proclaim himself the leader of the party in the state. Mark the reply:

"I have no ambitions to be leader," said Mr. Glynn.

There we have Glynn's certificate of Murphy's leadership.

In the New York Times of the day after this interview, in the report of events at Albany, there appears the significant paragraph:

"The legislative leaders who were here today were profuse in declaring that Mr. Glynn would have the hearty support of the Democratic majority in the legislature, and that they did not look for any differences like those which marked the administration of Sulzer."

There we have Tammany's certificate of Glynn's acceptability to it.

What is the prospect that the new governor will attempt to perform the paramount duty which now faces him?

A MAN WHOM ALL DISLIKED

The following description of the founder of Downing street, one of London's most important streets, or rather the man after whom it is named, is given in the last issue of the Round Table.

"George Downing probably was the most thoroughly disliked of all the minor characters of his century. As an Englishman he took a New England man by training, first but one of Harvard's graduates, and laughed hysterically a few years later an extremely versatile European, once he became a member of the House of Commons."

As a Grandfather describes him as "a plus grand querelleur des diplomates de son temps." This is a sad consensus upon the record of a man who, by acquiring from Charles II. a valuable building site adjoining St. James park, gave his name to the most shrine of the power of the British empire."

OF WHAT USE ARE SUCH JOBS?

From the Popular Magazine.
 When the administration began, Woodrow Wilson and his cabinet showed no particular anxiety in discharging Republican office holders and giving the patronage to Democrats. In some quarters the explanation was made that the Republicans had become so efficient in the government service that they had to be retained for the good of the country.

This greatly pleased a hot-headed southern senator, who criticized the corrupt and all-powerful grip exercised by Tammany and Murphy on the government of the state of New York.

Mr. Hennessy is said to be for the anti Tammany or fusion ticket in the municipal campaign in New York and is endeavoring to illustrate the corrupt and all-powerful grip exercised by Tammany and Murphy on the government of the state of New York.

Y. W. C. A. FUND NOW ONE-HALF COMPLETED

Women Finish Second Day With Excellent Reports; Several Large Gifts

Over $2,500 was found to have been the grand total secured by the work of a fund of $5,000, to meet current expenses of the Young Women's Christian association, at the end of the second day of their effort. When the faithful ones gathered in the campaign room of the new building yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock for a cup of tea and to exchange notes, each added her suggestions and subscriptions were added and found to total $2,519.50, to be exact, more than a third and almost half of the coveted amount. So many people that were seen asked for more time in which to consider and for the solicitor to call again, that it is quite certain that today and tomorrow will find a substantial increase in the fund.

One gift of $200 has been made. Eight gifts of $100 each. One gift of $75 and 12 of $50.

Miss Adelaide L. Gulon poured tea today and Miss Jeannette Schots and Miss Frances Cross assisted Mrs. W. W. Williamson in serving.

The budget for the year 1913 for the local work and for all contributions to national auxiliary work is $22,800. The estimated cash returns from membership fees, class fees in all departments, lunch room, house department, employment bureau, etc., is $16,800. Hence the request for the balance of $6,000 necessary to conduct the many philanthropic phases of the association work and to cover the interest and insurance.

That the association is an important factor in the civic life of Colorado Springs today is proven by the following statistics compiled by the local association as to the purpose and need of the work:

Why We Need the Y. W. C. A.

To give our younger girls wholesome amusement and wise leadership.

To provide girls with a home with safe and pleasant surroundings.

To assure to employed women rest, good food and pleasant surroundings, at the noon hour.

"Day of Rest" Case Takes New Turn; Arguments Closed

Legal argument closed last night in the case on trial in the county court to test the validity of the one-day-in-seven rest ordinance and Judge W. P. Kinney will render a decision as soon as he is able to consult the various authorities.

The case took an unexpected turn yesterday when arguments were made showing that the county court has the power to pass upon the constitutionality of the ordinance. It was at first thought by Judge Kinney that the jurisdiction of the case laid with the supreme court alone. It has developed, however, that the new law limiting the power to determine the constitutionality of a law to the supreme court, applied only to statutes, city charters or amendments to the charter provisions.

It has been contended by the attorneys for both sides that inasmuch as the law in question is only a city ordinance that it could be considered by the lower courts. The cases now on trial are those brought against the Antlers hotel and Kormeyer Drug company to test the validity of the law. It is understood that an appeal will be taken from the decision of the court in order to get an opinion from the supreme court.

WOULD PAY WELL FOR HANDLING GARBAGE

City Will Be Paid, Instead of Paying for the Carrying Away of Refuse

When bids were opened for the garbage contracts yesterday morning in the council meeting, the city commissioners had the most pleasant surprise they have experienced since their election. They discovered that instead of paying out $100 a month, as has been done for years, for carrying away the city garbage, that they could get $7,300 for the privilege of carrying away and securing title to the city's refuse for the next four years. A feature of all bids was that the city would be paid for the work under the old system.

The bids provide for the privilege of carrying off the garbage with or without sterilization, the former averaging 30 per cent less. A feature of all bids was that the city would be paid for the work under the old system.

The bids were referred to the committee of the whole and no action was taken at the meeting yesterday afternoon. Mayor McKesson has shown opposition to the plan, claiming that while the city may have the legal right to the confiscation of garbage of large producers, which has a commercial value to them, that it is not fair to do so without some compensation.

The various bids, each accompanied by a certified check for $250, were as follows:

Staley & Babcock

With sterilization—1 year, $1,000 to be paid by city; 2 years, $1,000 to be paid by city; 3 years, $2,500 to be paid by city; 4 years, $5,750 to be paid by city.

Without sterilization—1 year, $1,500 to be paid by city; 2 years, $3,000; 3 years, $5,000; 4 years, $7,200.

George W. Gilling

With sterilization—$1,000 to be paid by city, for 1, 2, 3 or 4 year contract. Without sterilization—No bid.

J. W. Grauer and W. T. Fraenking

With sterilization—1 year, $750 to be paid by city; 2 years, $500 to be paid by city; 3 years, $250 to be paid by city; 4 years, $1,212 to be paid by city.

Without sterilization—1 year $500 to be paid by city; 2 years, $250 to be paid by city; 3 years, $100 to be paid by city; 4 years, $1,112 to be paid by city.

"LITTLE KANSAS" ONLY A MEMORY AFTER TODAY

Last of Squatters Driven From Land; Park Proposition Gaining Favor

"Little Kansas" after today, will be but a memory.

But two alleged 'squatters' remain on land in that section of Colorado Springs just west of Monument creek, and notices will be served on them this morning.

And with the driving out of these two dwellers, Justice Dunnington will have completed his work of "cleaning up" one of the worst eyesores in the city. All of the shanties which formerly greeted all passengers on Manitou and Colorado Railway street cars from the time the cars left the Huertano street viaduct until they were far up Colorado avenue, soon will be torn down and carried away—or burned.

That section of west Colorado Springs fronting Monument creek has long been a source of great trouble and worry for both city officials and residents of the city who take an interest in civic beauty. Long ago the neighborhood was given the name of "Little Kansas," and almost as long ago agitation to clean up the section was started. It was not until a few weeks ago, however, that action was taken. Then Justice Dunnington acted quickly and well.

Almost since the first cry of "Clean up 'Little Kansas!'" was heard, many Colorado Springs residents have urged that a city park be constructed along the west bank of the Monument. A large park in that section would be a pleasant sight for tourists going to Manitou, they declared, and visitors undoubtedly would leave the Pike's Peak region with only praise for its civic beauty.

Whether anything will ever come of the agitation remains to be seen. However, many are in favor of the plan, and probably some action will be taken.

$20,000 REAL ESTATE DEAL

A deal involving the sale of considerable property in this city was closed yesterday by J. McK. Perillad, when the residences at Nos. 15, 17, 19 and 21 West View place, owned by W. S. Crosby formerly of this city, were taken over by A. Voigt for a considerable sum. This is one of the largest deals made in Colorado Springs for some months and according to real estate men, indicates that shrewd investors have faith in the investments offered in this city at the present figures.

COMMISSIONS WANT MORE MONEY IN 1914

Park Board Asks $56,500 for Extensive Work; Playgrounds Need $1,500

Stating that they will need $56,500 to take care of the parks of the city in 1914, the park commission yesterday made known to the city council the amount they will petition for. A $10,000 public comfort station in North park and $10,000 now being provided for by emergency warrants for the repairs on Monument creek, ripraping are included in this request. The commission believes that a bond issue would be the proper method of raising the money if the council does not have it next spring to make the appropriation.

For maintenance the commission figures that $22,500 will be needed, the principal items being $12,000 in Monument Valley park, $1,200 in North park and $1,000 in North Cheyenne cañon. Construction is figured at $5,000 in Monument Valley park, including drinking fountains, entrances at Wilamette, Boulder and Columbia and a shelter pavilion.

In North park the desired construction is figured at $14,500, the principal items, $10,000, being for a public comfort station which has been agitated for some years. A new bandstand is proposed to cost $2,500 and a pavilion to cost $1,500. It is estimated that $1,300 will be required in the Garden of the Gods for road construction and other items amounting to $2,800 make up the total.

The recreations and amusements commission requested the council for $1,500 for next summer's playground work. J. L. Bennett, chairman of the playgrounds subcommittee of the commission, made the request, also asking that playgrounds be maintained next year at Monument Valley park, where the principal one was last summer, at Dorchester park, where another playground was started late in the summer, and at the Boulder reservoir site, in the northeastern part of the city.

A draft of a playgrounds ordinance was also submitted to the council. It provides for the establishment of a playgrounds commission of five to be appointed by the mayor with the approval of the council, one member to belong to the council, one to the park commission and one to the board of education. Two shall be named for one year, dating from January 1 next, two for two years and one for three years, the term hereafter to be two years. This commission shall have control of the playgrounds but not to supersede the park commission in authority.

MEMBERSHIP CAMPAIGN TO CLOSE TONIGHT AT THE "Y"

The J. M. C. A. senior membership campaign is progressing better than the committee anticipated and the men out working in the interests of the association are meeting with much success. The campaign will close tonight with a championship game between teams picked from the combined members of the two-league organization. # Western Sugar Co. Stockholders Authorize Pig Amalgamation

The directors of the Western Sugar and Land company, owned and controlled by J. R. McKinnis, R. P. Davis, E. C. Sharer and associates of Colorado Springs, were authorized by a meeting of the stockholders held here yesterday afternoon, to proceed with the amalgamation of the interests of this company and those of the Southwestern Sugar and Land company of Glendale, Ariz.

The action of the stockholders means that both companies will carry on their operations jointly and that the same sugar business which McKinnis and Davis have developed in Arizona will be extended and perfected along broader lines in conjunction with the production of beet sugar.

In all probability, the amalgamated company will increase its capital stock to $5,000,000, although, according to Mr. McKinnis, the plans are only tentative. The legal end of the work is in charge of Attorney Charles F. Potter, and the details of the amalgamation will be worked out by Mr. McKinnis, Mr. Davis and Mr. Sharer. The latter probably will resume his permanent residence in this city.

In speaking of the venture, Mr. Potter brought out the point that the whole activity is being formulated in the face of the new tariff regulations which are conceded to be adverse to beet sugar interests.

The following facts in connection with the Glendale holdings will be of interest to all connected with the affairs of the Western Sugar and Land company or the Southwestern Sugar and Land company.

The entire plant at Glendale is modern, complete, and up to date in every respect. The buildings being designed for a 1,200-ton factory, the machinery now installed being rated at 400 tons daily capacity. The main factory building is constructed of steel brick and concrete, five stories in height. In addition to this, the plant consists of a warehouse having a capacity of 75,000 bags of sugar, syrup tanks with a capacity of 5,000 tons, cement water tank with a capacity of 400,000 gallons, and cement fuel oil storage tanks with a capacity of 40,000 barrels. The plant is well equipped with silos feed lots, receiving station, scales, dumps, and all necessary facilities for handling large sugar crops.

The plant has an excellent water system, and has cost complete with receiving stations, in excess of $1,000,000 and is one of the best equipped sugar plants in the United States. With the addition of a roller crusher for extracting the juice from the cane, and a conveyor for taking the pulp to the furnaces, the plant is sufficiently equipped and capable of manufacturing cane sugar from a large sugar cane crop as well as taking care of the beet sugar business. It is estimated that the additional machinery equipment will cost approximately $500,000.

The land holdings of the Southwestern Sugar and Land company are principally in the Salt River valley of Arizona.

The company owns 2,500 acres of land near Maricopa eight miles from Glendale, where the sugar plant is located. This land is probably the choicest of all the lands in the Salt River valley. The company also owns 2,500 acres of upland land in the Glendale district. This land is under the celebrated Roosevelt Reclamation project of the United States, which is one of the best in the world. A part of the company's lands, both at Maricopa and in

Prophesied Election of Wilson; Goes to Asylum

When is a man insane—or sane for that matter? Do prophetic powers indicating an abnormal condition of the mind, show that a man is no longer intelligent? These are some of the questions which vexed the county court yesterday morning during the examination of Bob Cummings, ex-convict, who was declared insane by a jury of six men and sent to the state asylum at Pueblo.

A little more than two years ago Cummings wrote a letter to Woodrow Wilson, addressing him as president of the United States and at that time Cummings was a convict serving a term of from three to four years in the state penitentiary at Canon City. At that time Wilson had not even been mentioned as a presidential possibility. The contents of the letter were not made public at the trial yesterday morning as the letter never left the prison. Cummings was committed to the insane ward shortly after writing the letter and remained there until the expiration of his sentence. Soon after he was discharged, one of the prison authorities turned him over to the officers of El Paso county, in order to have his sanity tested.

COLORADO'S MOST POPULAR TENOR

Mr. Farmer, the most popular tenor in Denver--and therefore in Colorado--is Frank W. Farmer. As tenor soloist in Central Presbyterian church, where he has sung for six years, first tenor of the Temple Male Quartet, soloist and leader at the Y. M. C. A. meetings, and soloist in many important concerts, he has been before the public almost constantly since establishing his residence in Denver. Before locating in that city he had sung in every state of the Union east of Montana and Arizona, under Lyceum management. He was also, before coming west, tenor soloist of the First Baptist church of Chicago, where C. A. Haydon, the well-known composer, was director.

During Mr. Farmer's residence in Denver, his various positions in the city have kept him so occupied that he has been able to accept but few of the concert engagements proffered him from other cities, but he has made arrangements that will enable him to get away more frequently during the present season. He has prepared a recital program of songs that are musically good and yet of general appeal, so that they are sure to be understood and enjoyed by the average audience. He will sing exclusively in English, and his enunciation is so excellent that no one will experience difficulty in understanding the text of the songs.

Mr. Farmer will be accompanied by an excellent pianist, and his recitals may be depended upon to give genuine pleasure to every lover of singing. He will appear with Princess Taisiana Redfeather, the Indian mezzo-soprano, at Burns theater, Tuesday, Nov. 11.

BYRON'S TRAUBADOURS

"I heard these young men in Chicago, and I am going to hear them again Thursday evening," was an expression made by a person who had heard these musicians. Byron's Traubadours are simply great. Their male quartet work is excellent and the work on the instruments is unexcelled. Any one missing this concert will be sure to regret it. They give a clean-cut entertainment, and their concert is worth more than the price asked for this evening. Tickets will sell for 50 cents at the First Baptist church, tonight.

Make This and Try It for Coughs

This Ho-medic Remedy has no Equal for Prompt Results.

Mix one pint of granulated sugar with 1/2 pint of warm water, and stir for 2 minutes. Put 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex (fifty cents worth) in a pint bottle; then add the Sugar Syrup. Take a teaspoonful every one, two or three hours.

This simple remedy takes hold of a cough more quickly than anything else you ever used. It usually cures an ordinary cough inside of 24 hours. Splendid, too, for whooping cough, spasmodic cough and bronchitis. It stimulates the appetite and is slightly laxative, which helps and a cough.

This makes more and better cough syrup than you could buy ready made for $2.50. It keeps perfectly and tastes pleasant.

Pinex is a most valuable concentrated compound of Norway white pine extract, and is rich in guaiac and other natural pine elements which are so helpful to the membranes. Other preparations will not work in this plan.

Making cough syrup with Pinex and sugar syrup for strained honey has proven so popular throughout the United States and Canada that it is often imitated. But the old, successful mixture has never been equaled.

An attempt will be made to bring the Victor team down for a return game on Thanksgiving. It should furnish an interesting contest, since both teams will be confident. The lineup for the game against the Institute for Thursday, October 30, will be as follows:

Frank Rice, center; Irving Evans and Frank Brown, guards; James Chipman and Paul Calahan, tackles; John Griffin and John Reynolds, ends; Otto Weberbauer and Edward Borst, halfbacks; and Perry Jackson, fullback.

NEW BILL PANACEA FOR CURRENCY HITS

New Yorker Tells Bankers It Will Mean Much to the Country

CHICAGO, Oct. 29.--Increased wealth and new opportunities were predicted for investment bankers under the proposed new currency law by Edmund D. Fisher, deputy controller of the city of New York, in an address delivered today before the Investment Bankers Association of America.

"The Glass-Steagall bill will not prevent the investment banker from borrowing money on securities during the time they are in their hands for placement with the ultimate investor," said Mr. Fisher, "but will remove the tendency to stimulate prices through a plethora of money market. Fairer opportunities for the development of business enterprises will come through a broadening demand for investment securities and municipal bonds will again take the place they once held in the investment market. Mr. Fisher declared that the most discouraging factor in municipal financing during the past few years has been the rather steady decline in the price of high-grade bonds from causes apart from considerations involving the credit of individual cities or corporations. This tendency has been caused, he said, by the increasing demand for new capital and its diminishing supply. Fundamentally, he said, it had been caused by a lessening volume of production and a waste of surplus capital.

"Relatively, prices also have been affected in the opinion of the speaker by the conversion of fixed forms of investments, through banking loans, into check currency thus increasing the spending tendency with its corresponding effect on prices.

"The reserve plans of the present national bank act, although it has developed the time and call money market for the investment banker, has also tended to bring frequent periods of restriction of his business," asserted Mr. Fisher. "The investment banker is primarily interested in the continuity of good business. In the resounding stability of prices and in giving satisfaction to his customers present practice brings him none of these desirable elements."

Business Directory Is Not Favored by C. of C. Advertising Committee

Several important advertising propositions were taken up for consideration by the advertising committee of the Chamber of Commerce at a meeting yesterday. The body passed unfavorably upon a proposal for a directory from Denver for the publication of a "business directory." Many similar proposals have been received from out-of-town solicitors and have invariably been turned down, as there seems to be a feeling among the merchants that this field is already covered by the city directory and other mediums.

The Sunset Advertising company was asking for the work and it was their plan to devote all of the book to advertising with the exception of that part necessary for the preface and the writup of each concern. The "circulation" was to consist of one directory to each advertiser.

SUES FOR $6,400 IN REAL ESTATE TRANSACTION

The suit is to recover part payment on a tract of land in Otero county, purchased by Murphy last year and which he now wishes to sell to Wintermute, as stipulated in the contract made at that time.

NAMING A PLAY FOR MRS. FISKE

One of the most important things about a play is its name. This, perhaps, should be something of a guide to the nature of the play itself. It should be crisp, euphonious and descriptive, and to find a title combining these characteristics is sometimes a matter of long and careful study.

A case in point is "The High Road," Mrs. Fiske's current play, which she is soon to see here. Where it is not that Mrs. Fiske is very musical, and fond particularly of old folk songs, it is not at all likely that the present name, the most pressing of which was the "printing"--the technical designation of the advertising matter used for billboard display--and it seemed absolutely necessary to select a title without further delay. There had been numerous consultations of the dictionary, encyclopedias, even the daily papers, not to mention the suggestions of numerous friends, but still the play remained nameless.

Mrs. Sheldon had early declared his inability to fix upon a name and had left the task to Mr. and Mrs. Fiske. Finally, when the matter could be put off no longer, they, with Mr. Sheldon, resolutely attacked the problem one day, bent upon finding a solution, but after canvassing every old and new name would ever have been given the play.

During its writing, merely for purposes of identification, a tentative title was given it, one which there was no intention of retaining, but when it came to the selection of a permanent title, great difficulty was experienced in finding one that was deemed suitable. During rehearsals, it was referred to merely as "the play," but as the date of production approached, the lack of a title became a serious consideration. Several matters of prime importance were being held in abey-suggestion, they still were baffled.

They were all sitting quietly "thinking it out," when Mrs. Fiske began to sing softly that old Scotch ballad, "Loch Lomond." When she reached the words, "You'll take the high road," Mr. Sheldon, springing from his chair, exclaimed:

"Wait, Mrs. Fiske! There's the name for the play, 'The High Road'! And 'The High Road' it was christened then and there.

WHAT MUSICAL SENSATION, "THE MERRY COUNTERS"

"The Merry Countess," characterized as a veritable whirl of color, dance and song, tinged with the alchemy of melody and tuneful music, and distinguished by the original production, direct from the Casino theater, New York, comes to the Opera house next Saturday, matinee and night.

The score of this exquisite operetta, composed by Johann Strauss, is the glorious realization of genuine comic opera and is piquant, rhythmic, and at times fairly eloquent. Strauss is, without doubt, the waltz king of his generation, and stands today without a peer.

It was Johann Strauss who composed "The Beautiful Blue Danube," which is incorporated in this score.

The story of "The Merry Countess" is strictly modern. Many and unique are the situations, while the humor is of the bubbling kind, with all the sparkle and brilliancy of rare champagne. The comedians in the cast are the most humorous on two sides of the Atlantic.

The staging of this operetta, far surpasses anything seen on our stage this season, and is such as to arouse envy among the great theatrical magnates. It is a worthy effort.

"The Merry Countess" by Johann Strauss, with words and lyrics by Gustav Unter and Arthur Anderson, with all the glitter and blare of a big New York success and boasting of the original production, comes next Saturday, 8 o'clock, accordingly, make early arrangements for seats, which will surely go with a rush, and get your box parties for those to whom you would show special attention, for no more enjoyable treat could possibly be provided than a performance of "The Merry Countess" with a New York cast and a large chorus of Broadway beauties.

Success is the hardest earned return in the world, and particularly in the theatrical world, but once earned it is a thing of beauty, and this fact is strongly illustrated in the triumph of "The Merry Countess," which comes to the Opera house with a record of one year at the Lyric theater, London, and six months at the Casino, New York.

Manager Samuel E. Rork promises the most elaborate production and the best cast of principals he has ever assembled. "The Merry Countess" was

GORDON RUSSELL THAYER CONCERT ENJOYABLE ONE

Spings Pianist Played to Brilliant Audience at Opera House Last Night

Gordon Russell Thayer, pianist, a pupil of Leschetizky, gave a concert at the Opera house last night before a brilliant and appreciative audience.

The program was a severe one, perhaps almost too severe, as the average audience loves to hear old favorites, or at least to have one or two favorites on a program. The pianist seemed to be nervous at first, but that disappeared and his real power was shown in the Sonata, Tragic, by MacDowell, played with rare intelligence, clean technique and poetry.

His touch is firm, his technique is fine, his playing is very clean, and at times rises to distinction. He has a strong sense of contrast, his chords are massive, his staccato passages delicate and clear, and his crescendos are worked up with brilliancy.

The numbers that were received with the most applause were the Prelude in E minor, by Mendelssohn; Halakirew's Lark, the Barcarolle and the Molto Allegro, Vivace in the Tragic. The full program was as follows:

- (a) Barabande.....Ramus-MacDowell
- (b) Prelude in E minor.....Mendelssohn
- (c) Capriccio.....Brahms
- (d) Chant Sans Paroles.....Tchaikovsky
- (e) The Lark.....Balkirew
- (f) Fire Music from "Die Walkure".....Brasens
- (g) Barcarolle in G major.....Mozzkowsky
- (h) Sonata Tragic.....MacDowell
- (i) Largo.....Mazetico
- (j) Largo con Maestria.....MacDowell
- (k) Largo con Maestria.....MacDowell
- (l) Allegro Eroica.....MacDowell

There is something in the air at this time of the year that has a very drying, irritating effect on the nostrils and air passages of the head and throat. A cough and cold frequently follow these symptoms, and Foley's Honey and Tar Compound is a strong demulcent remedy that gives prompt relief. Use it for coughs, colds, tickling throat, hoarseness and bronchial coughs, but for children and grown persons. Keep it at home, and quick relief will follow its use. Contains no opium. LOS ANGELES, Oct. 29.--W. H. Stevens and Charles S.
